

Scientist

Ryan Dickherber

Jan. 30, 2008

We were building some electronics in the lab, when in came the newly tenured professor from across the hall. He helped us solve a few problems, which probably saved us at least a day of effort. All of a sudden, his soundtrack kicked in: Scientist from the Dandy Warhols. We all couldn't help but sing along.

It was a huge upgrade from last week, when his soundtrack consisted of nothing but Kanye West remixes.